In this session, attendees can sign up on the spot to receive no-cost access to Dimensions and Altmetric for their noncommercial scientometric research projects. Experts from Altmetric and Dimensions will provide short introductions to each of these groundbreaking platforms, including the use of both databases and their APIs, and will be on hand to answer questions about our data, platforms, and opportunities for collaboration. We especially look forward to meeting with those interested in indicator development, network analysis, and other innovative approaches to using Altmetric and Dimensions data.
